1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-11 and 20-26, drawn to compound and composition, classified in class 564 and 514, subclass 218 and 629 respectively.
 - II. Claims 12-14, drawn to combination of compound of claim 1 with other therapeutic agents, classified in class 552, subclass various.
 - III. Claims 15-19, drawn to process of making the compounds and the product by the process, classified in class 564, subclass 4.
 - IV. Claim 27, drawn to a kit, classified in class 206, subclass 569.
 - V. Claims 28-30, drawn to process of preparing a composition for nebulizer, classified in class 601, subclass various.
 - VI. Claims 31-37, drawn to a method of treating diseases associated with beta-2 adrenergic receptor activity, classified in class 514, subclass 630.
 - VII. Claims 38-40, drawn to a process of preparing an intermediate, classified in class 564, subclass 305.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the compounds itself can be used to treat various diseases associated with beta-2 adrenergic conditions. The subcombination has separate utility such as using as anti-inflammatory or anticholinergic agent.

3. Inventions III and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be materially prepared by crystallizing in other solvents for example propanol or ethanol etc.

4. Inventions V and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the composition as claimed can be made by materially different process such as by dissolving the compound in water and adjusting the pH by acid or base as required.

5. Inventions I and VI are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using such as disclosed on page 3 of the instant specification.

Art Unit: 1621

6. Inventions I, and VII are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions of Group VII is drawn to the preparation of an aminophenyl ethyl amine derivative which is unrelated to the claimed compounds and composition of Group I.

7. Inventions I and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as administering the composition in a metered dose. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

8. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and have been classified in separate class, subclass according to US classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

9. A telephone call was made to Roberta Saxon on 9/14/04 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

10. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

11. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to SHAILENDRA - KUMAR whose telephone number is (571)272-0640. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon-Thur 8:00-5:30, Alt Fri.
